Description:

From the Back Cover Don't go to some over-priced salon the next time you or someone in your family needs a haircut--do it yourself at home instead! Look at the color photos of everyday people--not models--pick a style, and see how to create it. There's something for all ages and tastes, as well as for short and long, curly and straight hair. And when you know some simple tricks of the trade--such as the proper way to hold a scissors and comb--no one in your family will ever have a bad haircut again.
