Description:

Review "The author is a skillful narrator of people and places far from even the most adventurous traveler. Writing is descriptive and personal and purposeful." ~ Judges, Society of American Travel Writers Foundation, 2009 Best Travel Book Gold-Winner

"Rich with descriptive detail, replete with humor and never lacking in the life-altering experiences of his previous journeys, this is arguably Wilson's most personal, passionate book yet - a resolute plea for compassion in an often intolerant world and a testament to the healing power of history." ~ C.W. Gortner, author of The Last Queen

"Along the Templar Trail writes the message in brilliant, even blazing letters: Peace and prosperity are undeniably possible, and they can come in our time...for all time. If only a few more ordinary mortals had the will and fortitude of this author, we would live in a very different world." (5 shakas) ~ Joseph W. Bean, Maui Weekly

"This is one of those books you slow down and pace yourself like a pilgrim, because the wonder is in the journey... Take your time with this book. Savor every step. Brandon is at his best ever in Templar Trail, a truly heartwarming story of dedication, hope and love." ~ Andy O'Hara, author of The Swan: Tales of the Sacramento Valley

"...A rhapsody on the theme of pilgrimage. May Brandon Wilson's goal of fostering peace along the glory roads of the world inspire a trail of pilgrims to create their own sacred journeys in the interest of world peace." -- Phil Cousineau, author of The Art of Pilgrimage and The Book of Roads

"A fascinating testimony of faith and gumption that inspired two men to take seven million steps for peace. A must read..." -- Arun Gandhi, M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence, University of Rochester, NY

"A vivid and eye-opening blend of history, adventure, religion, mysticism and modern conflict... Simply one of the most remarkable adventure stories of our time..." -- Richard Bangs, adventurer, author of the book and host of the new PBS series Richard Bangs' Adventures With Purpose, co-founder Mountain Travel Sobek

"If we want peace on earth, we must make the effort to embody peace with each step. Brandon Wilson's inspiring journey, told beautifully in this book, is a living example of peacemaking." -- Cindy Sheehan, Peace Activist
