You can do it.
I can help.

The LSAT is not a test of what you know. LSAT questions hinge on fundamental reading skills and common sense, a super-smart eighth grader could consistently get a perfect score on the exam. The LSAT is a test of how you think, a very challenging test of how you think. And just every other LSAT book out there is only interested in telling you what you need to know. This book is different. Knowledge is good, but it's not enough. Strategies are good too, but they aren't enough either. And of course you need practice, but you don't get a big score just because you practiced hard. To succeed on the LSAT, you need to develop LSAT-specific skills and habits. You need to be able to pick apart arguments and articulate exactly what is wrong. You need to be able to perform these exercises accurately every single time. You don't need to be lectured to, and you don't need to learn how to read faster. You need specific training, and targeted practice. This book will help you train for the LSAT like no other book can.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Mike Kim is a nationally renowned test preparation expert, and his systems have helped thousands of students to achieve higher scores on the LSAT and the GMAT. Most recently, Mike co-created the acclaimed Manhattan LSAT learning system. Inspired by the hard work and dedication he saw from students who prepare for the LSAT on their own, he set out to create the ultimate self-study aid, and The LSAT Trainer is the result.
